

The Circle

The Circle shows the different stages a person undergoes when considering hearing aids: audiologic assessment, a hearing aid consult, a hearing aid fitting, hearing aid maintenance and periodic hearing tests to ensure your hearing aids always match your current hearing levels.

Our role is to help you navigate the process by providing information, advice, encouragement and support as you navigate your hearing health care. We welcome you to be an active participant in your process by asking all questions that may arise. We also recommend including family members in hearing aid appointments to provide support to the entire family.
